WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman summoned defense mobilization Charles E. Wilson to Key West, Fla., today to discuss the steel wage dispute, after Wage Board deliberations were halted by the physical collapse of the board chairman.

Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the government's Wage

Stabilization Board, who has been working night and day on the case in an effort to avert a strike set for midnight Sunday, keeled over about 6:30 o'clock this morning. (EST).

Delay Serious

A physician said Feinsinger collapsed from fatigue, and the board recessed until 2 p. m. The unexpected delay posed a serious problem, in view of the imminence of the strike deadline.

Wilson's office told a reporter there was a "good chance" that the defense mobilization chief would fly to the little White House at Key West late this afternoon.

Andrew Berding, Wilson's public relations chief, said Wilson had been called by President Truman to go over all the issues bearing on the threatened strike by 650,000 CIO United Steelworkers.

The industry was facing the problem of closing down furnaces lest the threatened weekend walk-out leave the equipment without workers to attend it.

Union Shop Hot Issue

Doctors said Feinsinger apparently would be able to continue the negotiations this afternoon.

Earlier the WSB was deadlocked on the union shop issue.

While the bickering went on within the public-industry-labor wage board, the steel industry stood by waiting to learn whether

Budget-Cutting Drive Runs Into Demands Of VA

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A $1,786,086,161 budget for the Labor Department, the Federal Security Agency and related boards was recommended today by the House appropriations committee.

This is $197,324,700, or approximately 10 per cent, less than the $1,983,410,761 President Truman requested for the fiscal year starting July 1.

One Not Trimmed

All but one of the four agencies financed by the bill were cut, the sole exception being the National Mediation Board which was allotted the full $1,130,000 requested.

The Labor Department's budget was trimmed from $228,096,100 to $211,664,400, a cut of $16,431,700.

The federal agency asked for

Sabres Bag 10 More Red Jets

SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — American Sabres shot down five Communist MIG-15s and damaged five others today, bringing their two-day score to six Red jets downed and 12 damaged.

The jets damaged yesterday include a new "Type 15" Communist plane, "a funny looking bird" rarely seen over Korea.

It was a high wing version of the familiar Russian-type Mig-15. A Fifth Air Force spokesman said the high-wing jets rarely have been seen. This was the first reported hit.

The spokesman said it appeared to be more efficient at lower altitudes than the low, swept-wing Mig-15. But it seemed to be about 50 miles an hour slower. It is about two feet longer and had a two foot wider wing span than the Mig-15.

The Fifth Air Force said its Korean war record is 232 Communist aircraft destroyed, 39 probably shot down and 423 damaged—a 694 total. This does not include figures for B29s or carrier-borne planes.

Spring Takes Bow, Fair And Warmer, With Snow Salad

(By The Associated Press)

Spring came to Michigan today — 11:14 a. m. EST.

Her arrival brought fair and warmer weather in the south portions. For the Upper Peninsula snow flurries were predicted.

Except for storm-whipped east-central California and Nevada, Michigan's first day of spring was like that of most of the nation—generally mild.

Californians Soar 44,000 Feet In Glider

BISHOP, Calif. — (AP) — Soaring aloft on updrafts over the towering Sierra Nevada, two Californians claim a world altitude record of 44,000 feet for a two-place glider, the Soaring Association of Southern California reports.

They are Larry Edgar, 30, Twenty-nine Palms, Calif., and Harold Klieforth, 30, Sacramento, Calif., both employed in a high altitude weather research project here.

Phone Calls 10c

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Anyone who wants to make a nickel telephone call from a booth in California, had better do it today. Tomorrow the cost goes up to ten cents. However, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., let a little ray of sunshine slip into its rate hike reminder. The 3 per cent surcharge on monthly bills, which covered losses in the telephone booths, will be dropped.

One Roadblock Cleared Up For Korea Armistice

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — The U. N. Command tonight in effect suggested off-the-record truce negotiations to try to break the long deadlock over exchanging war prisoners in Korea.

An official Allied spokesman said the U. N. would "give consideration" to secret negotiations with only the final agreement—or lack of one—announced. There would be no daily briefing of news correspondents.

Entry Ports Fixed

This development came only a few hours after staff officers agreed on 10 ports of entry through which troops and supplies would be funneled into Korea during an armistice.

Settlement of the ports of entry dispute left three major issues: 1—Voluntary repatriation. The Allies insist that prisoners be allowed to accept or reject repatriation. The Reds want back all U. N.-held prisoners.

2—The Allied demand for a ban on military airfield construction.

3—Communist nomination of Russia to a neutral inspection commission.

No Secret Clause

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official U. N. spokesman, said off the record prisoner exchange negotiations would permit staff officers to talk freely without having their daily arguments reported.

He emphasized there was no thought of a secret clause in the armistice.

Communist newsmen at Panmunjom have mentioned repeatedly during the past few days that the prisoner deadlock could be broken in secret negotiations.

Truman Says Eisenhower Can Come Home Anytime

AUTO RECOVERED — An automobile, a late model Mercury, owned by Al Tebom, 508 S. 12th street, Harnischfeger foreman at the truck crane plant, was recovered from 30 feet of water at the mouth of the Escanaba River Wednesday afternoon. A Harnischfeger truck crane, used as a dragline, pulled the automobile from the bottom of the river. Harnischfeger employees, directed by Supt. Emil Zitner, accomplished the rescue mission. Tebom, his three children, Terry, Bruce and Cherie, and Tebom's father, Joseph, escaped through the car windows just before the auto broke through the ice Monday night. (Daily Press Photo)

Taft Withdraws From New Jersey Primary Election

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft announced today he is withdrawing from the contest in New Jersey's Republican Presidential primary.

In an angrily worded statement, the Ohio Senator said he had been done political dirt by Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, who has announced for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Taft said Driscoll waited until after the deadline for formal withdrawal from the April 15 primary to abandon a position of neutrality and then had thrown the weight of the New Jersey state Republican organization against Taft and to Eisenhower. Since the deadline has passed, Taft's name will remain on the ballot.

Michigan FEP Measure Dies On House Floor

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

LANSING — (AP) — Fair Employment Practices legislation died yesterday on its first appearance on the House floor in history.

Two and a half hours of debate ended with a 45-46 vote, six short of the necessary majority.

Republican sponsors of the measure had enough backing from their own party and the Democrats to beat off a series of amendments they called crippling. The 13 Republican and 32 Democratic aye votes were not enough to carry the bill.

Temper flared briefly in the debate, heard by a large and interested gallery crowd. At one point Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), who backed the bill, was taken to task by members of Polish extraction for using the term "Polack" in debate. He said he was quoting another person and did not apologize.

The measure would have outlawed discrimination in employment by employers or unions and set up a Fair Employment Practices Commission to enforce the law.

The principal speech in opposition was made by Rep. Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) who prefaced it with the statement that "I abhor discrimination as much as anyone here."

He said, however, that among "great dangers" in the bill were that it permitted employers to escape by hiring through employment agencies, that it granted the commission's agents subpoena powers, that it forced witnesses to accept immunity and testify before the commission and that the commission would act as its own prosecutor.

Korea War Not Campaign Cue, Newsmen Told

KEY WEST, Fla. — (AP) — President Truman said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is at liberty to return to the United States any time he deems it safe and proper.

The President told a news conference the general is doing an able job and is the best judge of when it will be safe for him to give up his post.

Slap At McKinney

Truman also told newsmen that the Korean situation has no bearing whatever on what he (the President) may decide to do, Truman added.

This amounted to a slap at Frank E. McKinney, the Democratic national chairman who said yesterday that his "impression" was that Truman's decision would hinge on whether a satisfactory truce was reached in Korea.

Truman said Korea does not enter into the politics of this country at all.

What happens in Korea has no bearing whatever on what he (the President) may decide to do, Truman added.

Key Man In Europe

Truman's remarks about Eisenhower developed in this fashion:

A reporter said news columnist Walter Lippmann had suggested that in view of Eisenhower's victory in New Hampshire and his unprecedented write-in vote in Minnesota, it was now Truman's "duty" to call Eisenhower home.

The President said it is his duty to see that we obtain our objective in Europe. He added General Eisenhower is the key man there and he understands the situation better than Walter Lippmann or anyone else.

Asked how he regards Eisenhower as a politician, Truman said that in his book Eisenhower is a military man and is doing a very able job.

Truman went on to say he was

Fair Manager Friel Resigns

DETROIT — (AP) — James D. Friel, named by a one-man grand jury as a bribe taker, resigned today as manager of the Michigan State Fair.

The written resignation was given to the State Fair board of managers as they met today to discuss the fair, which has been under grand jury investigation for several months.

Friel has been ill for two weeks and did not appear at today's meeting.

The board had before it a report of Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara's one-man grand jury investigation. In it, Friel was accused of soliciting and accepting a bribe from a concessionaire.

Friel told the board, "I should not be held responsible for the conversations and actions of dubious and disgruntled personalities sometimes found around the State Fair."

Three Drowned In Auto Plunge

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. — (AP) — Three men were carried to their deaths when their car plunged through a bridge guard rail into a Lake St. Clair canal last night.

Despite desperate rescue attempts, the trio drowned. It was the second incident of its kind within less than a week.

The body of William Curtis, 30, of Mt. Clemens, was the first to be recovered. It was found in the back seat of the car when the machine was raised from 15 feet of water.

Early today druggers found the bodies of Kenneth Pingel, 22, of Mt. Clemens, owner of the car, and Wayne Laforge, 20, of Detroit.

The bodies of both Pingel and Laforge lay in the water within 15 feet of the car. Sheriff's deputies said the two men evidently broke free after the car went into Compau Bay, five miles east of here, and drowned trying to save Curtis.

A witness, Samuel Bennett, said the car had passed him going very fast and hit a pool of water at the approach to a bridge over the canal.

The car went out of control and crashed through a steel guard rail into the bay. Bennett said he saw two men swim to the surface and call for help, then dive back toward the car.

Drifts Maroon 2,000 In California; Nevada Cattle Herds Starving

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Snow marooned some 2,000 people in east-central California and threatened 600,000 head of Nevada livestock with starvation on this first day of spring.

In Mono county, on the Nevada-California border, snow blocked roads to people running low on fuel.

"The storms are keeping up and I don't know when we'll get out," telephoned Mrs. Marjorie Gripper, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Leavine.

45 Feet Deep

Some 125 still were snowed in at June Lake Lodge, 180 miles east of San Francisco, where drifts up to 45 feet deep covered roads and many one-story houses.

"Here we can step out of a second story window onto snow," said George Conn, lodge owner over the only telephone line open from that community.

Conn reported ample stocks of food at June Lake but Mrs. Gripper said food was running low in other snowbound parts of Mono county.

Nevada Gov. Charles Russell proclaimed a state of emergency to qualify for federal aid for livestock. Heavy snows have blocked roads to 200,000 cattle and 400,000 sheep in north and central Nevada.

Eight Arrested In Reno Robbery

RENO, Nev. — (AP) — Arrest of an eighth suspect in the burglary of millionaire La Vere Redfield's safe brought the first confession of the case and boosted the cash recovery to $128,000.

The FBI said Anthony Gazzigli, 41, former gambling house porter here, admitted taking part in the million and a half dollar Redfield burglary and led to the recovery of $27,000 cash, some jewelry and securities.

Officers said Gazzigli, a brother of Louis (Fito) Gazzigli, already held in the case, told how Redfield's safe was taken from the home and broken open with crowbars in an isolated area outside Reno. Loot has been recovered in Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Reno and Flagstaff, Ariz.

Four Egypt Officials Fired For Failing To Stop Rioting Jan. 26

CAIRO, Egypt — (AP) — Egypt's government fired four top officials of the interior ministry today for failing to stop the violent fire rioting of Jan. 26 in Cairo.

The ousted four were at national police chiefs and the acting governor of the city. They were ordered into retirement by royal decrees issued by King Farouk last night after a cabinet meeting. Sixty-seven persons were killed and property damage ran to many millions of dollars in the rioting.

Ice Breaker Is Due Tomorrow

Barring an unexpected change in plans, the Coast Guard ice breaker U. S. Mackinaw will begin ice breaking operations in the Bay de Noc tomorrow noon and will carve a path of open water to the Chicago and North Western docks in Escanaba.

No iron ore is enroute to Escanaba and the C&NW ore dock office here has reported that no definite information has been received when ore shipments from the mines will begin.

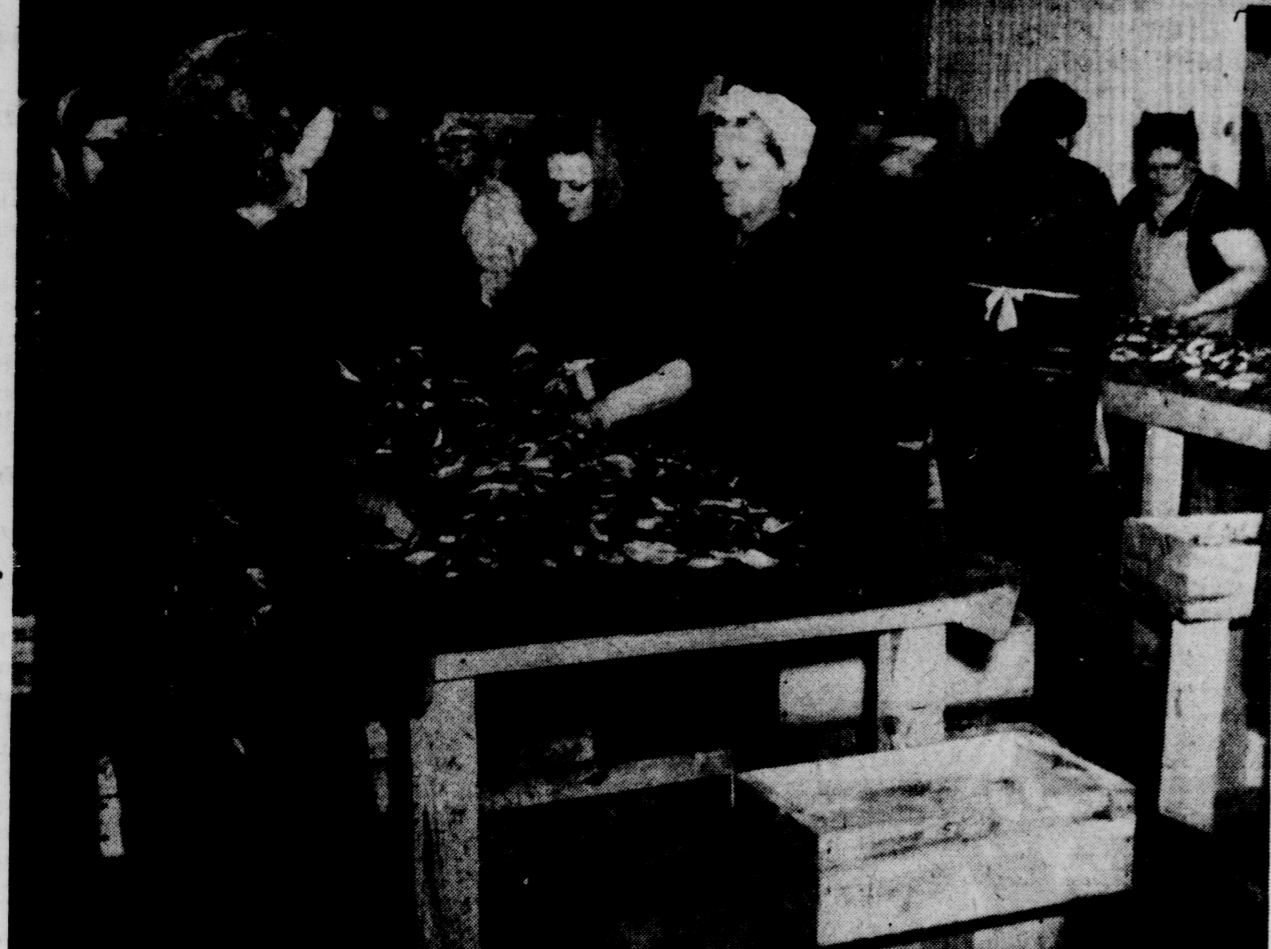

The Lake Carriers' Association is reported that the first ore boat scheduled to arrive in Escanaba today but the name of the carrier and its company has not been indicated. In any case it is unlikely that there will be any ore at the docks to load the vessel this weekend.

The "ice committee" of Lake Carriers' Ass'n. held its first pre-arrangement meeting Tuesday in leveland. The committee, representing operators of lake fleets, met with officials of the Coast Guard and Weather Bureau to study ice conditions and determine when the lakes could be opened to navigation. John T. Hutchinson, resident of Lake Carriers' Ass'n. resided. There will be many such meetings before the season actually opens.

At the meeting operators learned that the ice breaker Mackinaw made a passage through the Straits this week, cutting a channel to White Shoal and proceeded from there to Lansing Shoal. It encountered 24 inch ice and some windrows as much as 20 feet in height. The Lansing Shoal light is now manned for service. According to Coast Guard officers, there is open water west to Minnesota shore.

First arrivals into Port Inland and Escanaba are expected on the 3rd of this month and the first upbound steamship from Detroit is the steamer S. T. Crapo bound for Alpena on Wednesday the 9th. Apparently unfavorable weather must be expected the balance of this week.

Another meeting of the "Ice Committee" was called for Friday. With a big year in prospect, operators will make every effort to open navigation at the earliest possible date. A year ago the first transit of the Sault locks was made on April 2nd.

SMELT PROCESSING prior to shipment of the silver fish around the country is part of the operation of the smelt industry in Escanaba. Above, employees at the Schultz Fish Market on North Seventh street clean the smelt and ready them for box shipment. About 5,000 pounds are sent out daily from the plant with as high as 9 tons being taken in one day of operation last week. Local fishermen in this area sell their draws of smelt to dealers like August Schultz, Roy Jensen and Jensen Fish Market and Griffin Associated Fisheries. Commercial smelting is now at its peak in the Delta-Menominee area. Dealers will continue operations into April after the smelt run. After break-up of the Escanaba harbor, they will buy from river dipper during the spawning movement of the fish into the rivers.

Letters To The Editor

EASTER SEAL SALE

Dear Editor:
Each year Americans everywhere are urged to use Easter Seals "to help crippled children." And each year citizens in all states have responded to the appeal.
As one who has assisted in many Easter Seal activities and who has seen Easter Seals at work for crippled children, I often wonder, however, if contributors to the drive really know to what extent they help crippled children when they send contributions to their local Easter Seal Society.
Any crippled child is eligible for help from the Schoolcraft County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. Children with heart, eye, speech and hearing defects, cerebral palsy and any other crippling condition are being referred to the society by doctors and other individuals every day.
Our society, I have learned, is one of about 2,000 societies banded together throughout the United States in a federation known as the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Of all funds raised by our chapter during the Easter Seal campaign, 91.7 per cent will be kept in our community to develop and expand the services to the crippled children in this area. The remaining percentage finances the national program of education, research and direct services on a nationwide scale.
The happiness and the hope provided crippled children through Easter Seal funds cannot be explained in a letter such as this. I can only say that the sight of Easter Seals at work is heart warming; that through the eyes of one who has been back stage, the Easter Seal campaign is indeed a worthy one.

Sincerely,
Miss Marjorie Mac Kenzie,
1951 Seal Sale Chairman

Eisenhower Backers Jubilant; Stiff Fight Predicted For Taft

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said today that Sen. Taft will be "just about out of the race" for the Republican Presidential nomination unless he wins Wisconsin's April 1 primary decisively.

But Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said he believes "it will be a horse race" between the Ohioan and Gen. Eisenhower right down to the wire at the GOP nominating convention in July.

Aiken has not announced his choice for the nomination. Watkins is a Taft supporter.

Write-In Amazing

Aiken termed "nothing short of amazing" the big write-in vote Eisenhower rolled up in Minnesota's Presidential primary Tuesday. In 3,550 of 3,769 precincts so far reported, Eisenhower polled 106,788 votes to 128,134 for Harold E. Stassen, whose name was on the printed ballot. Taft has received 23,966 write-in votes.

Coming on top of Eisenhower's win over Taft in New Hampshire last week, the general's Minnesota showing elated his backers.

And Aiken said from "neutral" ground that the Minnesota results "represent a clear cut victory for Eisenhower when you consider that all those people who voted for him took the trouble to write his name in."

outcome "not in any way significant or indicative of a trend." He said Eisenhower backers in Minnesota made a "vigorous and organized" write-in campaign and that the Taft people did not.

Taft himself said the Eisenhower vote was "astonishing." His only other comment was that he had discouraged his Minnesota supporters from writing in his name.

The Ohioan's headquarters here said he made "no campaign whatever" and added that the Eisenhower forces had been unable to defeat Stassen "despite weeks of feverish effort and the expenditure of large sums of money."

Taft and Stassen along with Gov. Earl Warren of California are entered in the April 1 Wisconsin primary, but Eisenhower is not. And Wisconsin law prohibits write-in votes.

U. P. Bureau Faces Important Decision On Industrial Issue

THE Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, which always has belonged to the people of Northern Michigan, is considering one of the most far-reaching changes in its 41-year history and is seeking public opinion as to whether it should take such a step. The change, as recommended by the Department of Economic Development on the advice of its U. P. Advisory Committee, involves setting up an industrial division within the framework of the Bureau—a move that would necessitate expansion of the organization's fund-raising means.

To obtain an expression of public sentiment "of a realistic type," the Bureau has invited more than 1,500 persons, including its officers and directors, chairmen of county boards, mayors of cities, presidents of villages, banking officials, representatives of the press, and Chamber of Commerce leaders, together with industrial executives, to attend its winter gathering in Marquette on March 26. Invitations to industry alone went to 393 employers of eight or more men.

Born in an hour of necessity 41 years ago, the Bureau and its far-sighted leaders generally have followed a program of promoting development of agriculture, tourist trade and the use of natural resources in the Region. If Peninsula leaders want the organization to continue its present program, they should say so. But if they want the Bureau to enter the industrial promotion field, a decision carrying with it a re-vamping of the Bureau's structure and a carefully-planned program of financing, they can make their wishes known at the March 26 meeting. Even though only 10 per cent take advantage of the opportunity to tell the Bureau what it should do, it would be a consensus that probably would reflect the desire of the majority.

The entire proposed program will be explained in detail by George Craig, Director of Research, Calumet & Hecla Consolidated Copper Mining Company and a member of the U. P. Advisory Committee, before discussion of it begins. Briefly he will state that the Department of Economic Development suggests that an engineering survey of the entire Peninsula be undertaken to determine the present and future economic potentialities of the region, and that an industrial division be set up within the structure of the Development Bureau.

Resource materials of Upper Michigan for the past century have helped to build cities in Michigan and other states and its iron, copper and lumber resources still are in demand. The fact that Detroit businessmen recognize that they are in some measure dependent on Upper Peninsula materials, and have manifested interest in helping the area solve its economic problems, is a matter that should give Upper Peninsula leaders faith in the future of this north country.

It will be up to those who attend the Bureau's meeting to decide on (1) the need for such an industrial program, (2) the wisdom of such a move, and (3) whether financing of an industrial division on a long-term basis can be accomplished without interfering with the Bureau's present program.

Ike's Campaign Reaches High Gear

GEN. EISENHOWER'S amazing write-in showing in the Minnesota primary election, where the general's name was not even on the ballot, combined with his victory in New Hampshire, puts Ike's presidential campaign in high gear.

Not even the most enthusiastic Eisenhower supporter could have expected 100,000 write-in votes for Eisenhower in the Minnesota primary. Yet the election returns show that the general drew more than 100,000 votes and trailed the favorite son, Harold Stassen, whose name was on the ballot, by only a few thousand votes. It was undoubtedly the most definite indication of Eisenhower's popularity thus far in the campaign.

Senator Taft of Ohio is still the leading candidate for the Republican nomination with a large number of pledged delegates already in his lap. However, if Taft is unable to snag the nomination in the early balloting, it is very likely that a tremendous shift to Eisenhower will be quickly forthcoming.

After Eisenhower's name was left off the Minnesota ballot because of defective filing petitions, the general's chances in Minnesota looked very dim. The write-in campaign started only last Friday. Eisenhower supporters set a goal of 50,000 votes which they regarded as an adequate expression of the voters' write-in support for the general. The more than 100,000 votes tabulated for Eisenhower represents a tremendous uplift in Eisenhower's campaign. It vastly overshadows the higher total for Stassen, the favorite son who had the advantage of having his name printed on the election ballot.

When a wife pays for exercise lessons it keeps her bending and her husband broke.

It's the easiest thing in the world to be a failure—yet it's pretty tough.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Two Capitol cloak-room maneuvers recently have illustrated why the public gets disillusioned over the double-morality standard of Congress.

Mauever No. 1 was the strategy used by Republicans and Southern Democrats to try to kill the Internal Revenue reform bill putting tax collectors under civil service.

Originally proposed by Herbert Hoover, this reform should have had 100 per cent GOP backing. Instead, the cloak-room strategy of Republican leaders was to pressure all senators not up for re-election this year to vote against it.

Behind this strategy was the fact that GOP leaders knew the public was for the tax reform. They also knew that any Republican senator facing election this year would have to vote for the reform. But after a year or so they figured the public would forget.

That was why the heat was put on Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, an Eisenhower man, to vote with the old guard. Only recently elected, leaders figured Carlson could weather public reaction, and the public would have time to forget before his re-election in 1956. Though most Eisenhower senators voted for the tax reform, Carlson knuckled under to GOP leaders.

That was also why such old guard Republicans as Brewster of Maine and Brickner of Ohio voted against the GOP leadership. They are up for re-election this fall, and a vote against tax reform might have hurt their chances.

That was also why the heat was put on Nebraska's newly appointed Fred Seaton. Since he is not running for re-election, colleagues figured he had nothing to lose. However, Seaton, a forthright newspaper publisher and one of the best new members of the Senate, voted his convictions — for taking tax collection out of politics.

CLEAN-UP TEAM

The senators who really put across the tax-reform were a team of three young freshmen: Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, Blair Moody of Michigan, and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, all Democrats. These three youngsters, serving their first terms in the Senate, hammered home the point that Congress couldn't merely talk about corruption, it had to clean up corruption.

In doing so they risked the undying enmity of old-timers like George of Georgia and other members of the aristocratic Senate Finance Committee—one of the most powerful bodies in Congress. Its members not only write the tax laws but have a habit of black-balling anyone who seeks membership on their committee who does not agree with them.

However, the young clean-up team of freshmen Moody, Monroney and Humphrey not only opposed them but slapped them down to resounding defeat.

Maneuver No. 2 was the strategy of certain senators in attacking corruption clean-up man Newbold Morris. Basically, this was the strategy of smearing Morris before Morris could smear them; and behind this is the fact that you can investigate everyone in Washington—provided you don't investigate a member of that exclusive club called Congress.

One solon who learned this lesson the hard way, and who participated in the Newbold Morris smearing, is GOP Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan.

As a member of the Old Senate Investigating Committee, Ferguson started a probe of the commodity speculation of Sen. Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma. Shortly thereafter Thomas wrote Ferguson a pungent, private letter in which he warned the Michigan senator to lay off or he, Thomas, would expose certain operations of Ferguson's son-in-law with Chrysler Airmotive Sales Corporation; also insinuated that ladies in the Ferguson family had received presents of fur coats.

"You will no doubt be surprised to know that among my letters and reports," wrote Senator Thomas, "... charges have been made that certain wealthy automobile interests, acting through lady members of their inside organizations have made gifts of valuable coats, dresses and other items to certain members of your family."

"I have personally written this note in order to keep it strictly private," Senator Thomas concluded. "However, for fear I may hereafter need a copy, I have had the sheets photostated, but I do not plan to make the contents public unless I deem the public interest will be served thereby."

This was enough for Senator Ferguson of Michigan. He promptly dropped the probe of his fellow member of the Senate club.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

New York—Submarine torpedoes and shell fire, destroying three Allied vessels, lifted the toll of ships officially announced as attacked off the United States Atlantic coast to 41.

Melbourne, Australia—Guided by Nazi Germany fifth column agents, a strong Japanese force was reported advancing overland in New Guinea to Port Moresby, enemy-coveted springboard for invasion of the Australian mainland.

Escanaba—Opening of the Escanaba harbor for ore shipping was delayed 24 hours to allow commercial fishermen to remove their nets from Bay de Noc.

Manistique—Mrs. George Wilson entertained a number of ladies at her home on the occasion of her birthday anniversary.

Gladstone—Miss Lillian Cornell was named valedictorian of the Class of 1942 at Gladstone High School.

20 YEARS AGO

Washington, D. C.—Prohibition continued to stir on Capitol Hill in the wake of quotations attributed to Secretary Hurley in Chicago that the Republican national convention in June would adopt a "more liberal" plan toward the liquor question.

Moundsville, W. V.—With an unconcerned smile on his face, Harry F. Powers, the mountain "Bluebeard" who slew two women and three children, went to his death on the gallows.

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Lauritz Drevdahl were the parents of an eight-pound girl born at the Shaw hospital.

Gladstone—Arthur E. Skoglund was leaving for Detroit where he was to be employed.

Smallest Allies Of U. S. Talk Bravest In Anti-Russian Fight

By RICHARD HOLLANDER

NEA Special Correspondent

ANKARA—(NEA)—The smallest and most vulnerable allies talk the bravest fights against the threats of Russian military aggression.

We've put $346 million into Yugoslavia, $1.2 billion into Greece and $175 million into Turkey, all outright grants, and to hear them talk it has built confidence—if nothing else.

They've bought will to resist. They've bought optimism. That is all.

Our post-war military understanding with Yugoslavia goes little beyond mutual defense. Tito remains a Communist dictator. The entire relationship is cold-eyed and realistic.

The fact that Yugoslavia is on our side now hasn't changed the grim mood of the country.

But this has little to do with the No. 1 problem, defense. There's no questioning that Yugoslavia would fight hard against invasion. The Yugoslav military, sharpened by its guerrilla successes during World War II, boasts it could repel any armed effort by Russian satellites, so long as there wasn't too much real Russian assistance.

"What would happen if Hungary, for instance, invaded?" a young general staff officer was asked. His reply:

"It might take us three weeks to get to Budapest."

No neutral observer shares this optimism.

The American Military Assistance Aid Group has been in Yugoslavia only weeks so it is still too early to determine the exact scope and nature of the advice and equipment the Yugoslav forces will need. One basic problem this Group faces is the natural, inbred hesitancy of Yugoslavs—like all people under dictatorship—to speak openly. It will be a long time before there is a free exchange of information on mutual defense problems.

It is estimated that 25 per cent of the total national income is being spent for defense. If so, this is a larger proportion of its resources than any other continental country outside the Iron Curtain is spending, not excluding the United States. It is responsible in part for the overriding stench of personal poverty in the land.

Yugoslavia has large mineral deposits and fertile agricultural areas which, once exploited, could mean a bright future. Now, however, every possible effort is being directed to prevent the over-running of the country, as in World War II. More than a tenth of the population died as a result of that war.

It isn't likely that after centuries of internal strife there won't be more of the same. But, hopefully, not now, with the Russian threat foremost in the minds of Serb and Croat alike.

Greeks like to say that they are like Americans, only more so. They mean that they're volatile, individualistic, warm-hearted and the despair of all other people who consider themselves realistic.

Most of the people of Greece have lived in poverty for so long that it has become normal. Only 20 per cent of the total country is arable and most Greeks are farmers. This would be an impossible situation for any but Greeks.

Modern Greeks are far removed from the ancient of the Golden Age, but all around them are the beautiful, weathered stones of past glories, and somehow, for today's people, the transition from the time when the Parthenon was new is no more than the blink of an eye.

The Greeks have had a shooting war more recently than most Europeans. After World War II they drove the Communist-inspired guerrillas out of the country and they feel pretty good about it.

But they could not possibly defeat a major enemy. The Greek Army today has an overall strength of about 170,000, which is about 21.6 soldiers per thousand of population. These troops need all kinds of equipment and training. British and American training teams which are going through the ranks do just this, but no one has any hope the Greeks could do more than slow down an invasion from the north.

A tactical air force, composed largely of obsolete Hell Divers and British Spitfires, is also being developed.

The Greek Navy has the mission of patrolling the islands of the ancient Greek seas, hunting submarines and laying mines. For this she uses former U. S. and British destroyers, corvettes, gunboats and mine-layers, plus one cruiser.

Politically Greece is more stable than for a long time. The government of white-mustached old Gen. Papas, the prime minister, manages to keep a small working majority. But, always a thorn in his side, is the opposition leader, Marshal Papagos, who ran the bandits out of the north. Papagos, sulking like a latter-day Achilles, never ceases his needling, for instance:

"That efficiency in government—one cruiser and six admirals."

From the plateaus of Anatolia in Asia Minor, Turkey looks westward, increasingly since Ataturk, the founder of modern Turkey, eliminated the Sultan and made laws against easternism.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

COMING HOME—Approaching spring means that millions of travelers are coming home again.

These travelers are the migratory birds, who enjoy southern vacations without benefit of airline reservations, find comfortable quarters in the trees, and pick up worms and insects for their lunches.

As globe trotters who know their way about the birds are without peer, observe the National Geographic Society.

Unlike the National Geographic Society we have trouble identifying one bird from another. But the subject of the birds and their migratory flights is an ever-exciting one. It can be enjoyed without knowing the difference between a crested flycatcher and cedar waxwing.

JUST GUESSING — Man has for many thousands of years speculated on where the birds go when they leave on their seasonal trips. It is only within recent history that bird itineraries have been pieced together by scientific methods of bird watching. Lacking these methods and world-wide communication, man once sought in his imagination the answers to why, where, and how birds travel.

Greek philosopher and naturalist, Aristotle, believed that a number of birds, including swallows, storks, kites, and doves, hibernated in the winter, passing the season in a torpid state hidden in trees, caves, and muddy marshes. His theory persisted well into the 19th century.

WILD SPECULATION — Aristotle was equally wrong when he tried to explain why it is that some birds stayed in Greece the year around.

He declared that winter birds simply changed their plumage to become summer birds.

Later amateur bird watchers thought that small birds rode as passengers on the backs of larger ones, while one 19th century writer proposed that, in reality, birds wintered on the moon!

Even today there is some popular misinformation about the birds. In the Northern Michigan area a few robins and crows will prefer to stay through the winter. Amateur observers always hail a sight of them as indication of an "open winter" no matter how cold it is.

THE AMAZING FACT—The truth about migrating birds is far more amazing than the speculations of Aristotle.

The little American barn swallow, for example, allows neither his size (less than seven inches) nor the distance to deter him from spending his winter holiday in southern Brazil. Every spring the song bird can be seen winging home across the Caribbean Sea to join the farmer in his war with insects.

Although the barn swallow has been known to fly 350 miles non-stop, he is slow compared to the colorful lesser yellowlegs of New England. One of these speed demons flew from Cape Cod to Martinique, French West Indies, in a scant six days, averaging a daily distance of more than 316 miles.

SPRING ROMANCE—Many of the birds on spring migratory flight make it an opportunity for romance. They do their courting while heading north.

But some males, including the robin, scarlet tanager, and red-winged blackbirds, fly north alone—to prepare a nest with which to welcome their mates.

Another gallant is the wren, who has been known to build several dummy nests so his lady can choose her favorite.

Ducks and geese and most shore birds pair up for their northward flight. For the birds nesting in the Arctic Circle the story next fall will be slightly different. Then the males are often left with the care of the eggs and young while the female takes off early for more agreeable southern climate.

A COCK-AND-BULL STORY

Animal stories have always appealed to the popular fancy—among all the races of the world and through all the ages. Currently, and for a number of years, Thornton Burgess tells a daily animal story in many of our newspapers. A generation or two back Joel Chandler Harris entertained us with stories of "Brer Rabbit." The most famous, however, known to all the Western world, are the Aesop Fables, the stories collected by the Greek slave, Aesop, about twenty-five hundred years ago, many of which were known in India long before Aesop's time.

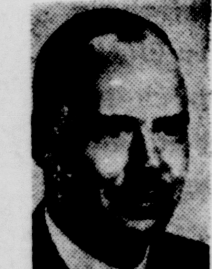

In the Middle Ages, perhaps as early as the tenth century, a series of animal stories began to appear in France or Flanders, all telling the adventures of the fox, Reynard. These stories became immensely popular throughout Europe and were spread, of course, by traveling story-tellers, because the printing-press had not yet been invented. Undoubtedly the stories were never told twice exactly alike, and, undoubtedly, some of the traveling minstrels began to invent other stories of their own.

Some of these invented stories became popular and came down to us in one form or another. Others, however, seem to have lasted only long enough to have left behind them merely a phrase or an expression which, try as we may, we cannot now tie in with any story. One from England, for example, is "to grin like a Cheshire cat," an expression that no one can now trace.

In France, and in Spain, there were many stories about asses or donkeys. One concerned a rooster and a donkey. Evidently this tale was most fantastic and unbelievable, for it left behind it an expression—"un coq-a-l'âne" (a cock and an ass)—that has just that meaning, fantastic and unbelievable.

Perhaps this story was carried to England. But, since donkeys or asses were not there in such common use as in France, the story may have been told about a cock and a bull. At any rate, "a cock-and-bull story" means exactly the same thing in English as the "cock-and-ass story" does in French. And no one can tell you why.

Elephants live much longer than human beings—and never worry about trying to lose weight.

Fibrositis Attacks Soft Tissue Such as Muscles, Ligaments

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Mrs. C. asks for a discussion on fibrositis, especially that which is centered in the back of the head and neck, and wants to know whether it can become serious or may spread to other parts of the body.

Fibrositis is a kind of rheumatism which affects particularly the soft tissues such as the muscles and ligaments. It may center around the neck as Mrs. C. suggests, or almost anywhere else in the body. In general, it is characterized by pain and aching, soreness when the part is moved and a certain amount of stiffness.

The end of the word—"itis," means inflammation. Consequently fibrositis implies that there is a slight inflammation of certain of the soft tissues. As one would expect, therefore, fibrositis may start suddenly with pain in some part of the body for no apparent reason. At other times it may begin gradually with fatigue coming before the soreness, pain and stiffness.

There are many possible causes for fibrositis. The most common is associated with some infectious or toxic condition. This is one kind of rheumatism in which removal of an infected tooth or infected tonsils is sometimes of benefit. Injury is also a common cause but sometimes the injury may have been so slight as hardly to have been noticed. Cold, over-exertion and over-exposure are commonly at fault.

Around the shoulder the lower portion of the back, the neck, the tissues around the large joints, and the chest wall are common locations. Pain is almost always present but swelling is far less constant. Tenderness to pressure is the rule. Nodules or little bumps under the skin are frequently felt in or near the tender region.

TREAT INFECTION

If the fibrositis is associated with an acute infection, then rest and the appropriate treatment for that infection is needed. If it comes with upsets of the stomach and intestines, perhaps a liquid or soft diet is in order. The removal of an infected tooth or tonsils may be indicated in some cases. Drugs may be helpful but have to be used with care.

If repeated small injury is the cause, then that, of course, should be eliminated. If bad weather or exposure is responsible, then staying indoors and avoiding exposure may be enough. Other treatment depends on what appears to be the cause or causes and what can be done for it or them.

Many people have had attacks of fibrositis at one time or another. Most people recover without any treatment. However, most attacks of fibrositis are rather painful and quick relief is badly desired. Aspirin, of course, helps a little. Heat treatments or other forms of physical therapy are also useful in bringing at least temporary and sometimes permanent relief. As a rule, the outlook is good.

How Is Truman's Press Gag Working?

By JAMES DEVLIN
NEW YORK—(AP)—Five months have elapsed now since President Truman issued his controversial order authorizing all non-defense agencies to label information as secret, in varying degrees.

How is it working out in actual practice?
The Washington Post surveyed the situation in each of 86 non-defense agencies and found that few utilize their new authority.

It found that those which have used it "do not know how many documents have been buried from public scrutiny by the imposition of classified labels."

Truman's order, issued Sept. 21, 1951, touched off anew the perennial press campaign for freedom of information. That means information for the people, not just freedom for the press.

The Post found that "many agencies exhibit a sharp awareness of the public's right to information."

Postal Department Won't Talk
But others, including some that hardly would be considered centers of secret activity, were reluctant even to tell how they applied the new directive.

You might think that the post office doesn't have any news except for annual stories on the volume of Christmas mail. But the newspaper said the post office "flatly refused to disclose anything about the application of the order."

Officials of some departments or agencies said the directive liberalized the release of news because it gave a clearer idea than heretofore of what should not be kept secret.

This was the view taken by President Truman.

"It is my hope," he said, "that the practical effect of these regulations will be to make more, rather than less, information available to the people."

The President defined the order as intended to protect information from "potential enemies."

But the American Society of Newspaper Editors, headed by Alexander F. Jones, executive editor of the Herald-Journal and Herald-American of Syracuse, N. Y., protested that the net effect would be to suppress news to which the American public was entitled.

Two days after the President issued his directive, reporters learned that the Office of Price Stabilization, in an action unrelated to the President's order, had instructed its staff to withhold any information that "might cause embarrassment to the OPS."

The President himself demanded that the OPS withdraw that one.

The editors, in a letter to Joseph Short, the President's press secretary, said they understood that genuine security information should be withheld.

Opposed by Editors
But they asked what guarantee there was that those carrying out the order would confine it to that. They declared:

"We strongly oppose an executive order which formally designates each head of a government agency an authority to classify information as injurious to national security without definition of what breaches national security, and without appeal or review."

The Associated Press managing editors association, meeting in San Francisco last Sept. 29, described the directive as a "dangerous instrument of news suppression" and called on Truman to rescind it.

Truman defended his order at a news conference on Oct. 4. He said a Yale University survey, made for the Central intelligence agency, indicated that 95 per cent of the government's secrets had been disclosed by "newspapers and slick magazines." That was what he wanted to stop, he said.

Two days after the President

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer in a Philadelphia speech Oct. 9 attributed some protests to "emotional outbursts about censorship."

He said too much military information was getting out.

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, said the order "duplicates in the name of national security the practices of totalitarian states which, as among their first steps, seized control of the channels of communication and information to the people which they later enslaved."

Short retorted that this was a

"detestable slander" and that "even a cub reporter would know better."

No Appeals Tribunal
Short said last month the White House had received only two complaints of withheld news and that both involved suppression cases that occurred before the order was issued.

The White House took a step toward meeting one complaint—that there was no appeals tribunal that would hear protests concerning agencies which suppressed non-security news.

A sub-committee of the Interdepartmental Committee of Internal Security, the agency which drafted the original order, was set up to keep tabs on potential abuses and to hear appeals.

J. Russell Wiggins of the Washington Post, chairman of the managing editors' committee on Freedom of the Press, said he did not believe the sub-committee, headed by Edward R. Trappnell of the Atomic Energy Commission, would answer the objections.

He noted that the Trappnell committee was made up of agencies particularly concerned with security—the defense, state, justice and treasury departments—and said an independent reviewing agency should be set up.

have helped keep her eyes turned westward since World War II.

Turkey was on the wrong side in World War I, and neutral in World War II. But there are few among our allies who feel more strongly about the Russian threat now.

The Turks are good soldiers and welcome instruction. The Turkish Army numbers 280,000 men, with a potential of a million. She is working on a program involving 16 infantry divisions, three cavalry divisions, six armored brigades and six mobilization brigades which are designed to be expanded to an equal number of divisions. Her air force now numbers 20,000 men and is divided into three air divisions, utilizing all types of aircraft. She'll be switching to jet fighters soon, with an American school to do the training.

The Turks, whom most Americans customarily imagine as swinging scimitars are apt pupils in mechanics. Already, under American guidance, a huge military "vehicle rebuild" shop is in operation. One sees young Turks, whose parents were of the ancient tradition, whistling happily as they take apart carburetors and rebore cylinders.

American Army training teams also are an integral part of the new Turkish Armored Force

School where especially selected Turkish officers are trained from the ground up in armored tactics, from gunnery to radio communications.

A new Navy supply base is to be built on the south coast. With this secure, high strategy in the event of attack by the two dozen Russian divisions known to be in the South Caucasus, would be for the Turks to retreat southward, ripping up the new roads as they go, until they reach the rocky heights of the Taurus Mountains. There, according to military experts, an army could hold out forever, defending the single pass that is but 300 yards wide.

Steiner Trial In Second Day

Six witnesses were called to the stand this morning in the circuit court trial of William Steiner, 40, Fayette woodsman, charged with the theft of six head of cattle from the Robert Watchorn farm in Fairport last summer.

The jury trial began yesterday when the first state witness was called to testify in the case in which Steiner is accused of slaying and butchering six Hereford steers on the Watchorn ranch, and belonging to St. Bonaventure parish of Sturtevant, Wisc., on or about July 25, 1951.

The trial was scheduled for the February term of Delta county circuit court but was not heard in that term, one of the heaviest in volume of cases to be tried. Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson was able to return here yesterday to resume work on the calendar, with the Steiner case being first on the schedule.

Counsel for the defense is Richard W. Nebel of Munising.

Tire Tracks Corroborate
First action in today's session was the recall to the stand of Detective George Strong of the Michigan State Police post at Marquette who identified state's exhibits of plaster casts made of tire tracks on the scene where the cattle were slaughtered. He testified that the casts were made by him on August 10 and led him to a pick-up truck owned by Steiner. The casts taken of the right rear, left rear, left rear, and right front tire tracks corresponded with the tires on the Steiner vehicle.

On the witness stand yesterday afternoon he identified photographs produced by Prosecuting Attorney Clyde McGonagle showing portions of the decomposed remains of the butchered cattle found on Section 34 of the Watchorn farm. He reported in testimony yesterday that an investigation of the Steiner truck yielded strands of animal hair which he claimed was that of a cow. He testified that he found the hair, of a reddish color and about 1 1/2 inches long, on the side panels of the truck's box.

Other witnesses this morning were Troopers Marvin Anderson and Charles Sparr of the Michigan State Police post at Manistiquette who first investigated the report of the cattle slaying; Clarence Johnson, undersheriff of Delta county, and Sheriff William E. Miron, both of whom made several investigations in the case; and Robert Watchorn, recalled.

4 Witnesses Yesterday

In action yesterday afternoon the state called to the stand Dorian DeRocher and Albert Tatrow, deputy sheriffs in Garden who made investigations in Fairport subsequent to the discovery of steer carcasses on the Watchorn property. Both reported finding animal hair on parts of the Steiner truck.

State Witness Emil Vetter, a farmer of Garden, testified a 22 caliber rifle owned by his son was in Steiner's possession last August.

Thirteen exhibits have been produced by the state and one by the defense in the day-and-a-half-old trial, and nine witnesses have testified.

After the charge of larceny was filed on Steiner in August, bond was set by Gladstone Justice of the Peace Theodore A. Sohlberg at $4,000. Steiner was released after a property bond was furnished by friends and neighbors.

Harnischfeger Veterans Receive Service Awards

The first service pins for five years of continuous service were awarded to the first employees hired by the Harnischfeger Corporation at Escanaba. Lowell S. Hebbard, who is now in charge of the purchasing and accounting department for both plants, was hired at the welder plant on February 3, 1947. On March 11, 1947 Conrad Lustick, Francis Gaudrault, Robert Jensen, Harold Cook, Joseph Fish and George Frasher started working at the welder plant.

Conrad Lustick was transferred to the truck crane plant on Danforth Road where he was later promoted to foreman of the rigging & testing department. Robert Jensen and Francis Gaudrault are both welders at the truck crane plant.

Harold Cook, who was hired as a punch press operator, is now a welder assembly leader at the welder plant. Joseph Fish started as a crane maker and later became an assembler on the A. C. assembly line. George Frasher is an assembler on D. C. equipment. Albert Constantineau, who is not pictured above, received his five-year pin on March 5, 1952. Several other employees received service pins. George Sanhuber, who was transferred from Milwaukee to Escanaba on November 1, 1951, was awarded a pin for 20 years of service. Sanhuber is a structural and welding inspector.

Mario Chigi, who moved to Escanaba from Newark, N. J., in 1938, received his fifteen-year pin. Chigi is now working in the industrial engineering department at the truck crane plant.

DeForest Coyle, foreman of the truck crane welding department, received his fifteen-year pin. Coyle moved to Escanaba from Milwaukee on September 1, 1951.

Gerald Schleicher, foreman of the D. C. welder department at the welder plant, received his 10-year pin.

Edward Wichner, who also came up from Milwaukee to take over the production control department at the truck crane plant, got his 10-year pin.

Wayne Cooper, who started in Milwaukee and later transferred to Escanaba, received his five-year pin. Cooper is now in charge of production control and order dispatching at the welder plant.

East Germany is supposed to pay one-third, and the talks are to settle how much of the rest West Germany will pay in cash, and how much in goods.

C&NW Freight Cars Go Through Despite Delta Hdw. Pickets

Two carloads of freight consigned for delivery to the Delta Hardware Company at Escanaba reached their destination yesterday afternoon despite a picket line of striking Delta Hardware employees.

Escanaba police received a report from Chicago & North Western Railway officials at Escanaba at 11 a. m. yesterday that pickets had halted two freight cars by displaying the banners they carried.

Railroad men switching the cars from the C. & N. W. line to the Delta Hardware company warehouse would not cross the picket line, police were informed.

At 2:40 p. m. yesterday officials of the C. & N. W. manned the locomotive and moved the cars into the warehouse. There was no disturbance, police reported.

About 45 employees of the Delta Hardware company, members of AFL Teamsters and Chauffeurs local, have been on strike since March 5.

$1,740,785,261 and was allotted $1,560,244,261, a cut of $180,541,000.

The National Labor Relations Board's request for $9,800,000 was trimmed to $9,600,000, a reduction of $200,000.

The committee cut $179,000 from the $3,626,500 requested for the federal mediation and conciliation service, leaving that agency $3,447,500.

The funds are in a bill sent to the House floor for debate next week.

Demands For More

A budget-cutting drive which already has shaved President Truman's own funds ran headlong today into demands for more money for veterans and public housing.

The VA now has 2,234 employees doing contact work, and says the cuts would reduce this figure to 305. Contact employees handle

William W. Hildebrand, 40, of Mt. Clemens, was ordered to appear in federal court here today for arraignment.

The FBI said cost of the stamps to the government was raised from $90 to $209.30 to cover Hildebrand's request and to make additional profits.

Campaign Costs Go Up For Republicans

GRAND RAPIDS—(P)—It's going to cost the Republican party in Michigan 30 per cent more to try to win this year's election than in 1948.

That's the word from Robert C. C. Heany of Grand Rapids, treasurer of the Republican state committee.

not interested in Eisenhower's political career. The general has a perfect right to do whatever he likes in that line, the President said, adding he had told Eisenhower that personally.

General Eisenhower, he said, is in the midst of a very important job. He said he had told him he could use his own judgment as to when to return.

When it is proper and safe for him to return he is at liberty to do so, the President said.

Some Republicans backing Eisenhower for their party's presidential nomination have been urging that he come home for speeches on issues of the day.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Powers in Europe—(P)—Gen. Eisenhower said today he is re-examining his political position—an indication he may soon go home to campaign actively for the Republican nomination for President.

The general took note of the "mounting numbers of my fellow citizens who are voting to make me the Republican nominee." He said, in effect, the voters of New Hampshire and Minnesota "are forcing me to re-examine my personal position and past decision (not to campaign for the nomination)." Eisenhower issued his statement a few hours after two developments—Sen. Robert A. Taft withdrew from the New Jersey preferential primary, and President Truman said Eisenhower was at liberty to return home any time the general deems it safe and proper.

Eisenhower's statement, however, took no note of either of those developments. It was issued in answer to reporters' requests for comment on the Minnesota primary, where more than 100,000 voters took the trouble to write in Eisenhower's name as their choice for the Republican nomination.

Husbands And Wives Urged To Spruce Up Home Wear Outfits

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Imagine coming home from work and finding the little woman vacuuming the parlor in a sarong!

What's sarong with that? asks designer Edith Head. She is launching a campaign to make the home more glamorous.

"Glamor has gone out of the home," sighed the pert brunette who designs clothes for Betty Hutton, Bette Davis and other film queens. "There are two occasions in the day when a man and wife notice each other most. That's when he is leaving for work in the morning and when he returns home at night. Both occasions are duds, sartorially speaking."

She's a Mess
"When a wife gets up in the morning, she throws a robe around herself, whips up a quick breakfast, dresses the kids and spoons some food down the baby. When her husband last views her before going to work, her hair is still up in curlers and she is a mess."

"When he returns home at night, she is worn out from minding the kids all day and taking care of the house. She is too busy making dinner to change the old clothes she has been cleaning the house in."

But what can be done about this situation, aside from going into hock and hiring a maid?

"The wife should steal a few minutes to beautify herself," said Miss Head. "And if she doesn't have the time to change her clothes, then she should wear a uniform that would be neat and attractive at times."

Nothing Fancy
"Doctors, businessmen, carpenters—all lines of work have their own uniforms. Yet the biggest single group of working people—the housewives—have no uniform. I think women make a mistake in using their old, worn-out clothes to do the housework in. Thus they spent most of their lives in old clothes."

"I don't mean that they have to invest in fancy wardrobes. I think one uniform for the housewife could be the housecoat, which can be neat, attractive and inexpensive. She can perform her home duties in it, and still look glamorous when her husband comes home at night."

The housewife could also adopt other eye-appealing outfits, she added, even suggesting a sarong. Miss Head whipped one up for Rhonda Fleming to wear in "Tropic Zone." She said that the reaction could easily be manufactured for housewife use, particularly in warmer climes.

Hints For Hubby
Miss Head's criticism of the loss of glamor wasn't only directed at the fair sex. She also rapped the husbands of America.

"The average man in business dresses up in the morning so he can look his best throughout the day," she cited. "But when he gets home, he doesn't care how he looks. He wants to get into something more comfortable. In days of more graceful living, that would have meant a handsome dressing robe or a Prince Albert jacket."

"But nowadays when he gets into something more comfortable, he wears something old and worn out—like a sweat shirt, jeans and sneakers."

"So what is the solution?" I asked. "Should we wear sarongs, too?"

"No, silly," she replied. "There are plenty of sports clothes which are good looking and yet provide leisure and relaxation."

She concluded: "If husbands and wives no longer care how they appear to each other, what will happen to the American home?"

It's certainly something to think about.

AS WE LIVE Never Ask A Man What His 'Intentions' Are

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph. D. When a man has been going steady with a girl for several years, she has every reason to believe that his object is matrimony. If, however, he never gets around to "popping the question," what should she do? That is the problem that is facing the young woman who wrote the following letter:

"I have been preparing myself to tell my boy friend that if he doesn't intend to marry me, we should stop going steady. I am very attached to him now. How will it be in the future and what will happen to me if he decides not to marry me? I think I'll die. Should I have a talk with him about the future?"

Under no conditions should you or any other young woman ask a man point-blank what his intentions are. In the days when your grandmother was a girl, a father felt that he had the privilege of asking such a question if the young man seemed slow about getting around to propose to his daughter.

But times have changed. Fathers of today would not dare do what their fathers or grandfathers did for fear of scaring off the young man and of bringing down upon their heads the wrath of their daughters, their wives, and all members of the family.

Certainly that is not a question that any woman should ever contemplate asking. But by clever methods she can find out the answer to this unasked question. And that is what you had better do before you become emotionally involved with this young man more than you are now.

Let him know that you are not his exclusive property by having dates with other men and by telling him about dates. Don't always be ready to jump and do as he says when he bends his finger. Play the "hard-to-get" game and see if this does not jolt him out of his rut.

Right at the moment, you think you will "die" if this man does not ask you to marry him but I assure you that people do not die from such causes. Of course it will be a disappointment to you and perhaps a blow to your pride if he does not propose but, would you really want to marry a man who did not want to marry you?

Going out with them men and having a good time will help you to get a better perspective on this problem than you now have. You will begin to realize that there are other attractive men available.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

Woman's Club Elects Officers And Holds Annual Studio Tea

The Escanaba Woman's Club elected officers for the coming year and enjoyed a highly interesting and instructive program on art at its annual studio tea held yesterday afternoon in Westminster Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. John Anthony is president of the club for 1952-53, succeeding Mrs. N. L. Lindquist. Associate officers are Mrs. E. H. Niederauer, first vice president; Mrs. James Fitzharris, second vice president; Mrs. John Ott, recording secretary; Mrs. Lindquist, director for two years.

Mrs. Earl Brown was chairman of the nominating committee.

The program of the day, which featured several mediums of art, was presented by Mrs. T. M. Cassidy and her art committee.

Mrs. Cassidy, who was introduced by Mrs. Anthony, spoke on the group of prints displayed which she had obtained from the Palmer House Gallery.

Artists' Impressions "In this exhibit of 'What the Artist Sees' words are used only where necessary to clarify the illustrations," Mrs. Cassidy explained. "We have combined looking with reading and showing rather than telling. We have stressed the how and why each artist works differently. In looking at these pictures our first impression is of astonishing variety. Don't pretend to like what you dislike or don't understand. We don't all have to like the same thing."

"Everyone sees hundreds of pictures every week in newspapers, magazines, cartoons, illustrations and advertisement. They try to get you to buy something, tell you something or entertain you. These paintings are different. They are not intended to sell you something or tell you yesterday's news quickly. Some of the pictures in our exhibit may take a good deal of study. Some are easy like a primer, some are hard with long words."

Guest Speakers At Swedish Service

A special Swedish service will be held at the Ev. Covenant church Sunday, March 23, at 2:30 with two distinguished visitors, the Rev. and Mrs. John Carlstig of Sunne, Varmland, Sweden, presenting messages in sermon and song. The Carlstigs visited Escanaba about six years ago and are widely known in this vicinity. The Rev. Carlstig is official evangelist of the Swedish Covenant. All those of Scandinavian descent and others interested are invited.

and complex ideas. Some are prose, others poetry, some like algebra or geometry, but there are no foreign languages in art. Art is a universal language."

Mrs. Cassidy announced that a University of Michigan art course will begin in Escanaba in April and members were urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

Before introducing other members of the art committee, Mrs. Cassidy closed with a favorite quotation of hers which can be applied to life as well as art. "We appreciate an understanding."

Block Prints Mrs. Victor Powers called attention to the fine work done by the adult education class. Included in this display was some block print work done on fabrics by Mrs. Bernard Prusak of Gladstone. These original creations included napkins, towels, and plates.

Next Mrs. Powers talked on the work of her children's class. The age of this group ranges from preschool to fourteen. Children are natural born artists, explained Mrs. Powers. Art is the expression of the spirit and not material things. Included in the children's display were three interesting flower arrangements done in water colors, and also the head of a horse done by one of the ten-year-olds.

Beautiful in design was the creative embroidery done by Mrs. Cassidy and the fabric linoleum block print work done by Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder. Three linoleum blocks in three colors, yellow, green, and brown, were used on one length of material. On another length just two blocks and colors were used. Three hours is required to imprint just one color on one length of material.

Brief Talk On Gerontology Mrs. John J. Walsh, state chairman of Gerontology, the science of aging, spoke briefly on this new program, which encourages personal creative work. "The joy in creating opens wider horizons to us and helps awaken God given talents within us," Mrs. Walsh said. "We are urged to prepare ourselves today so that we shall be ready for tomorrow."

The centerpiece on the tea table was a "mobile" designed by Mrs. Victor Powers and Mrs. William Perkins. This creation of wood, metal, wires, and a few extraneous small objects irrelevant to wire, was called "Endless Universe". A spiral wire gave the feeling of infinity. A small red ball representing the sun was the nucleus or core. It was so delicately made that it moved easily with the air currents and could be viewed from any angle with interest.

These mobiles are another form of art which is rapidly gaining interest and is expressive of the times, it was explained. They allow the use of an unlimited variety of materials. The creators need only imagination.

Tea was served by Mrs. John Thotter and her committee.

Business Session At the business session it was announced that the Child Welfare Club of Gladstone will join with the local club in entertaining the state convention here in August.

Mrs. Merritt Kasson, chairman, spoke on the library rehabilitation program for the Kansas flood area. The April meeting will be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

This Idea Gets Kiddies to Drink More Milk...

By MARY MANNING

Here's a way to get your children to drink more milk. It's a way so simple you'll find it hard to believe—but it really works. Try it. Simply set cold FAIRMONT MILK on the table by the pitcherful.

There's something about having a pitcher of ice cold FAIRMONT MILK on the table that makes the children ask for "seconds."

And everyone—adults and teenagers, as well as the younger children—should drink several glasses of this nourishing food every day. Doctors tell us we never outgrow our need for milk.

Once you taste a glass of cold, fresh FAIRMONT MILK, I'm sure you'll say, "Here at last is milk that's really delicious and refreshing."

FAIRMONT MILK has a deep-down creamy goodness that pleases—satisfies—refreshes.

It's the "GROW" Food—it's the "GO" Food. Compare FAIRMONT with any other milk. See what folks mean when they say FAIRMONT is the best milk in town.

RECEIVES CAP—Betty Gustafson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Gustafson of Ensign, who is taking a medical laboratory technician course at Elkhart Business University, Elkhart, Ind., received her cap at mid-term candlelight capping ceremonies at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Elkhart.

Miss Gustafson was graduated from Rapid River high school in 1951 as valedictorian of her class. She recently was initiated into Mu Sigma Chapter of Phi Rho Zeta, international.

Mr. Gustafson attended the ceremonies.

Now We Honor Jap Admiral

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—It was just a little shocking to see the pictures of the smiling Japanese Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura being piped aboard the battleship Wisconsin, with full honors—sideboys, bos-un's whistle and smiles all around. You remember Nomura—he and another Jap named Kurosu were the filmflam artists who were peddling peace to kill enough time to allow the Jap naval air arm leave its carrier to flatten Pearl Harbor.

It was diplomatic deceit of a high order that Nomura-san and Kurosu-san practiced, and they practiced it so well that they became the first popular whipping boys of the American people when we started off to war. It was only 10 tiny years ago, and sometimes it seems a million years in the past. Those were the days when the Japs were changed overnight from politely hissing baseball fanciers to yellow rats with saber teeth, vermin to be mercilessly exterminated.

All Is Forgiven
Now we are all friends again, I see, with Nomura playing honored guest, and over 400 Japanese war criminals being depurged from MacArthur's old lists. The Japs are valued allies in the east, and once again our little brown brothers. Forgiveness is divine, I know, and wars are not made by people, I know, but it still feels funny to see the "global criminals" once more as honored members of polite society.

It is almost possible that if they found Adolph Hitler hiding in a little mountain town somewhere they would fetch him forth with honor. It seems almost a shame, in that light, that we executed so many war criminals, for obviously what was bad yesterday does not have to be bad today, and yesterday's villains are tomorrow's chum-buddies.

But it's a queer feeling for those of us—and there were quite a lot of us—who spent two, three, four years overseas, dedicated to the killing of our present allies. The Germans are our friends now, too, and that feels funny. Ten years ago I was riding an ammunition ship in the North Atlantic, and you could play leapfrog on Nazi periscopes from Sandy Hook to Loch Ewe. It seems odd to recall that 10 years ago one of my nice, fresh-faced kids asked me seriously if it would be okay to shoot Germans in the water.

My friend Frank Farrell went through a bitter siege against Japs on Peleliu—a rat hunt so awful that Frank's face served as a model for Artist Tom Lea when Tom wanted to paint a picture showing what a combat captain really looked like after a few weeks of jungle warfare. It must be a weird feeling for all the Farrels today to realize that what they fought so relentlessly on government order is now a cherished friend and ally.

Not Easy To Forget
I know it is wrong of me, and certainly un-Christian of me, but I don't believe I am ever going to be real joyous about Japs or over-cuddly with Germans. Individuals possibly, yes, but masses, no. I was afraid too much—afraid in air raids in London, afraid at sea of submarines, afraid and monstrously bored on islands. It was a long, long time before I quit leaping out of beds at night when whistles blew or planes flew low.

You cannot live on bitterness, of course, and there is no sense in prolonging a finished feud, especially when they tell you you've won it, but I bet figures on the brotherhood of man as felt by veterans toward our new allies would surprise you. It is physically impossible to tell a man constantly for several years that one thing is good and the other bad, and then expect him to switch his views to fit a fresh political complexion.

We need the Germans, and we need the Japs, and the war is over, and all is well, but I would personally like to see a little less of this joyous brotherhood between the likes of Nomura and

Hen Comes To Rescue Of Pinched Budgets

WASHINGTON—(P)—The hen is coming to the rescue of the family with the pinched budget. The agriculture department said today the hen is laying enough eggs now to provide two large ones daily for our current fighting men. War may be a game to the professionals, with all forgiven when the final whistle toots, but to amateurs it seemed pretty serious at the time. We pipe Nomura over a battlewagon's side today, in friendship and in honor. Ten years ago, but for diplomatic immunity, we would have cheerfully strung him up from the yardarm.

each person—at a cost from eight to 10 cents for the individual meal. As a substitute for higher-priced meats, eggs provide proteins essential to good diets.

The department suggested that consumers take advantage of the egg "abundance" by serving them poached on hot creole or spanish rice, creamed, baked in cheese sauces, hot deviled or stuffed, or benedict—poached and served on thinly sliced ham or toast or English muffins with Hollandaise sauce topping.

Putting Disabled To Work Will Help Defense Effort

By SHERRY BOWEN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK—America's "disabled" may get part of the credit if the free world builds a defense that prevents war. That is the report now being made to the U. S. Office of Defense Mobilization.

With it is a warning—the number of disabled Americans is growing so fast that unless something is done about them their care will cost so much there might be a sharp drop in living standards for all Americans.

A team of experts studied the problem at ODM request. Here is the picture as they see it:

Two Million Disabled Jobless
About two million disabled Americans now idle could be trained to hold full-time jobs. One estimate is that the labor shortage because of defense will reach about 1½ million workers.

Each year brings about 250,000 more disabled and that figure is likely to grow. There are about six million accident injuries a year. Of these 1,850,000 are industrial injuries to workers. Also 2,600,000 workers are hurt away from their work.

The population is growing older and there are more disabled among old people. Medical skills keep many alive who formerly died—paraplegics, for example. As our industries and cities grow larger, accident dangers grow with them.

Wars Take Toll
Wars also take their toll. After World War I the peak toll of the disabled was 350,000. The World War II disabled load is 1,728,000 and growing.

Social security helps the disabled, but that is just a means by which those who work can support those who do not.

New knowledge makes it possible for more and more of the disabled to work and live as normal people. But facilities to use this knowledge are wholly inadequate.

The experts go on to say the nation is now ready for a major program of training for the disabled. Such a program would save men and money for defense.

ACCIDENTS like this often add to the number of disabled people whom Americans must support.

Communities Have Big Job
The major job would have to be done by the local communities. But business men, the states and the federal government should help.

An important part of the work would be pooling of information. World War II mistakes are cited to show that the wrong methods can cause trouble.

One example given in the report points out of the contrast between what can be done and what is being done.

A Boston company which writes group insurance puts disabled workers back to work in an average of 6½ months. The average for those helped by the U. S. vocational training program is seven years because of delay in starting training.

Eyesight Linked To Juvenile Delinquency

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—One of the factors in juvenile delinquency is often inadequate eyesight, according to the American Optometric Association.

The child who cannot see well enough to perform his school tasks often seeks self-expression in anti-social behavior, says Dr. Otis White, association president.

A New York City study showed that 90 per cent of a group of delinquents were found to be school failures. Two studies made by the Ohio State Bureau of Juvenile Research revealed that over 26 per cent of children brought before juvenile courts were deficient in vision, he said.

Dr. White recommended better visual environment in the schools and a more comprehensive eyesight examination program.

Volcano Pops Up Near Manila; Sicily And Korea Feel Quake

(By The Associated Press)
Earthquakes shook Sicily and Central Korea today and a volcanic eruption pushed a mass of hot rock above the surface of the Pacific north of Manila. But in only one of the disturbances were there any casualties.

A powerful quake killed three and injured scores in the area around Mt. Etna in Sicily. Some walls were tumbled and widespread damage was done in the rich, intensively cultivated vineyard area.

The Korean tremor was sharp in Seoul. It was felt at the United Nations Command's advance headquarters there, and rattled China. But no serious damage was reported.

A submarine volcano, sleeping for 90 years, pushed a mass of rock 250 feet above the Pacific's surface at a point 315 miles north of Manila in the Philippines. The sea bubbled and boiled about the base, and huge black boulders, some of them five stories high, tumbled about. A 10,000-foot high column of smoke and sulphurous steam towered above the scene.

Hibok Hibok volcano in the Central Philippines, which killed more than 800 last December, also threatened to burst into flames again.

Beavers Taste Good, Says Food Caterer

HELENA, Mont.—(AP)—A customer asked caterer Fred Jorgenson to stuff and roast two beavers. "They smelled like we were cooking cottonwood trees," he said. "But they got nice and tender like chicken." Jorgenson reported the patrons "licked the platter clean."

Tourist Air Service To Europe Booming

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Trans World Airlines said today the demand for summer tourist air service to Europe is so heavy it will increase its trans-Atlantic coach service, starting June 1, to 10 flights a week in each direction. Six of the tourist flights will be to Paris, four to London.

The new low-cost coach flights will start May 1 with seven flights a week each way.

Club Proposes Municipal Band

The question of how a city or municipal band could be organized and maintained came in for considerable discussion at a meeting of the Band Boosters club Tuesday evening at the music room in the junior high school.

The opinion was expressed that such an organization was desirable in order that youths who play band instruments would not have to put them aside when they finish high school for lack of opportunity to play.

It was decided to investigate further to determine if promotion of such a project is feasible.

Men of the club will construct risers for use during concerts if the material can be obtained.

In connection with the dinner planned for the band it was announced that the project may be taken over by one or more service clubs.

A letter is to be written to the school board requesting construction of cabinets for the storing or placing of band instruments.

Movies describing the various band instruments were shown and lunch served by Mrs. Lloyd Morgan and Mrs. R. A. Watson.

City Briefs

Mrs. Edwin Strom, 1418 Michigan Ave., and Mrs. Alphonse DeMenter, 1314 Montana, left yesterday morning for Chicago, where they will board a plane to Fowler, Calif., where they have been called by the serious illness of Donald Brassick, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brassick, former Gladstone residents, who is suffering from an incurable disease. Donald is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. August Brassick, 1308 Montana Ave., and a nephew of Mrs. Strom and Mrs. DeMenter.

Mrs. August Brassick, 1308 Montana Ave., is confined to her home with illness.

Mrs. Ed Strom and Mrs. Alphonse DeMenter left yesterday morning for Fowler, Calif., to visit their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Brassick, and son, Donald, who is seriously ill.

ATTENTION

Northwestern Plywood and Veneer
Employees, their Families and Citizens of Gladstone and Surrounding Area

An Election will be conducted by the National Labor Relations Board. A sufficient number of employees requested the International Woodworkers of America, CIO, to be their bargaining agent. As a result a petition was filed for representation. A meeting was arranged by the NLRB for the purpose of disposing of the question of representation. At this point the A.F.L. came into the picture. A consent election was agreed to by the CIO, AFL, Independent and the Company.

The Basic Issues involved are quite simple:

The employees want a strong, democratic Union that will bring the most security for the individual worker, his family and community. In other words a better living.

This means a good contract between the Company and the Union. That can and will be enforced with fairness and equality for all parties concerned.

This boils down to Free Collective Bargaining without influence or interference in the union by the company.

The Union must work intelligently, know the laws governing labor relations and know how to bargain at the big bargaining table with Uncle Sam so as to get the most possible for its membership in the way of Wages and Other Benefits.

The duties of the Union do not stop with a Collective Bargaining Contract. In other words the Union must be able to service its membership from the plant into a wide variety of fields to the top of the Government.

The International Woodworkers of America, CIO, is the Union best equipped to give you such representation. The CIO has contracts in the other Plants of the Atlas Plywood Corporation in this area: Newberry, Mich.; Munising, Mich., and Rhinelander, Wis.

All of the contracts expire at one time. All are open on WAGES now.

All have a reopener on 60 days notice on wages. Employees in each plant know that is happening in the other Plants. In addition to this we have 100 other operations of various companies open at this time on wages. All have one program—a 27½c wage increase.

Does or Can any other organization offer you these Tremendous advantages? The answer is obviously NO!

Many have asked: Will we have a Chartered Union with Local Autonomy? The answer is YES! You will Nominate and Elect your own Officers in the CIO.

It is impossible to go into all of the various questions in one or a series of advertisements. We therefore are cordially inviting each and every employee eligible to vote to attend our next meeting Sunday at 1:00 March 23, 1952, at the American Legion Hall. People who will answer your questions are President Clyde Russ of Rhinelander and others sent by the Local, delegates from Munising, delegates from Newberry, District Officers CIO and International Representatives CIO.

We urge you to attend all meetings of the different Labor organizations involved.

We in the CIO are banking on you to Separate the Wheat from the Chaff. In Unity There Is Strength.

We urge you to vote for the CIO.

International Woodworkers of America CIO
Edward J. Lambert, International Representative

Record Broken In Traffic Toll

LANSING — (AP) — Michigan's 1951 traffic toll of more than 500,000 casualties was the highest on record, state police said today.

Final figures showed the total as 1,640 deaths and 48,418 injured.

The death toll was the highest since 1951 and the sixth highest on record. Injuries and accidents climbed to a new peak, accompanying the sharp upward trend in the number of licensed drivers, motor vehicle registrations and miles of travel which started at the close of World War 2.

The death toll was up 25, or two per cent, over the 1,605 fatalities in 1950. Injuries increased 2,684, or six per cent, over the 45,734 injured in 1950.

Police said there were 3,065,447 licensed drivers, 2,560,652 motor vehicle registrations and an estimated 23,500,000,000 miles of travel in 1951.

Although the death toll was one of the highest on record, the percentage of deaths was at a new low of 6.98 deaths per 100,000,000.

Bishop Bona delivered the final absolution.

Pallbearers, classmates of Father Paiement, were Herb Cuene, Philip Dart and S. M. Smits of DePere, Thomas Clabots, Leo Ruel and Frank Haanen of Green Bay. Burial was in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Wildlife Week Being Observed

The Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's Club has joined the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and organized conservationists throughout the country in observing National Wildlife Week, March 16 to 22, it is announced by Dr. C. L. Novak, president.

National Wildlife Week was first started in 1938 by proclamation of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt for the purpose of calling public attention to the need for united action in conserving and restoring America's dwindling natural resources. Dr. Novak said. It has been sponsored annually since 1938 by the National Wildlife Federation and local affiliates.

Forty-two states are now represented in the national organization, including the Michigan United Conservation Clubs of which the Schoolcraft County sportsmen's organization is a member.

In addition to cooperating in conservation matters of statewide and national scope, local clubs carry on many projects to improve wildlife conditions, to improve hunting and fishing, to encourage soil conservation and good farming.

The vanishing Key deer of Florida has been selected as the National Wildlife Week symbol for 1952, Dr. Novak said. These unique little animals, smallest race of whitetail deer on the American continent, have become almost extinct on their island habitat of the coast of Florida.

The national organization is financed by the sale of sheets of wildlife stamps to interested citizens. The state organization, like the local club, is financed by membership dues.

Stricter Visiting Hours Imposed

Stricter regulation of visiting hours at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital is announced by Kenneth D. Moburg, administrator, as a result of action taken recently by the hospital board of trustees.

In announcing the change Moburg said: "During the past few weeks when occupancy of the hospital has been at a high level, the fact that we have been quite lenient in regard to visitors has been forcibly brought to our attention. The board of trustees, the medical staff and the hospital staff all feel that our lenient policy has, in some cases, been detrimental to the patients' welfare."

Continuing, he added: "Our chief concern at the hospital is for the patient's welfare and getting the patient back to health as soon as possible; and although the visitor may not realize the fact, oftentimes the strength of the patient is being completely sapped by long visits and lengthy conversations."

The new policy recommended by the board of trustees follows: Visitors must restrict their visiting to the afternoon and evening visiting hours except in cases of emergency.

No more than two visitors will be allowed to visit a patient at one time, and the visit should be brief—10 to 15 minutes is ample time to convey greetings to a sick friend or relative.

In addition, all visitors should be mindful that they are in a hospital, and that a hospital always has several critical patients who must have complete bedrest and quiet. Loud talk and laughter are not contributions to satisfactory and speedy recovery.

As before, visitors under 16 years of age are now allowed to visit any patients in the hospital at any time.

If for some reason, special visiting privileges are desired, the visitor should contact the administrator's office.

The cooperation of the public in maintaining the revised regulations is solicited by the hospital board.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

We hear that Dom Ghiardi, Gwinn cage coach, has turned in his resignation as mentor of the Model Towners who went through the regular season undefeated . . . Reason? . . . Not enough pay for the extra duties as basketball coach . . . Gwinn lost to Mass in the U. P. championship Class D game at Negaunee last Saturday night.

When the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association meets in Sault Ste. Marie Saturday we will have a suggestion to offer . . . How about getting a quarterfinal tournament in the Upper Peninsula next year? . . . Under the existing setup the U. P. champions always go downstate to the Petoskey area to play in the quarterfinals . . . That's decidedly disadvantageous for our champs.

Look at it this way . . . Houghton, U. P. Class C champs, traveled 325 miles to play at Gaylord High School last night . . . The Gremlins met Charlevoix which is just 43 miles from Gaylord . . . Houghton players never in their lives saw the Gaylord gym while to Charlevoix it is probably almost as familiar as their own home court . . . Mass was in the same predicament playing at Petoskey against Copemish which is about 60 miles from the tournament site . . . And how about the spectators . . . We've never seen a quarterfinal tournament game, have you? . . . Think of the home crowd factor which the U. P. teams must always face in quarterfinal games.

We know the first answer the Michigan High School Athletic Association will give to such a proposal . . . Too expensive to send Lower Michigan teams to the U. P. for quarterfinals and then all the way back to East Lansing for the semifinals and finals . . . The MHSAA, however, makes plenty on the cage toursney from the districts through the finals—and the object should be first to crown a real champion and not to make money.

We have a number of fine athletic plants in the Upper Peninsula and could certainly accommodate three quarterfinal cage tournaments . . . This department is all in favor of getting a fair shake on the deal . . . At least let's have the quarters in the U. P. ONCE in a while.

International Is Word For Chisox

PASADENA, Calif.—(P)—It appears that Manager Paul Richards is molding a solid infield for the Chicago White Sox—and one with a distinct international flavor.

Eddie Robinson, a good long ball hitter, is set at first, and so is the Keystone combination of shortstop Chic Carresquel and second baseman Nelson Fox.

The newcomer is Hector Rodriguez, the rookie of the year with Montreal in the International league last year.

The international flavor, which extends into left field and the pitchers' box, goes like this:

Carresquel is from Venezuela, and his rookie understudy, Guillermo Miranda, is from Cuba. Rodriguez and the now famed left fielder, Oretes Minoza, are also from Cuba, along with Luis Aloma, the ace relief pitcher.

Fox is from St. Thomas, Pa., and Robinson lives in Baltimore and his birthplace was Paris—Paris, Tex., that is.

Wants Babe To Play Maxwell

NEW YORK—(P)—Fred Corcoran, tournament director of the Ladies PGA, said today the current crop of feminine golfers can match shots with the best of the nation's male amateurs—and he'd like to prove it with a challenge match for charity.

The match: Babe Didrikson Zaharias vs. U. S. Amateur Champion Billy Maxwell.

"The Babe would be tickled pink to play such a match," the broad, sun-tanned Boston sports authority said.

Corcoran, who also runs the women's cross-country Weather-vane tournament, suggested that the proceeds of such a match could be turned over to a charity like the United Cerebral Palsy Fund. The Weather-vane receipts this year are going to that fund.

In Low 70s

Corcoran returned east yesterday after watching Mrs. Zaharias win the Women's Titleholders tournament at Augusta with a 72-hole score of 299.

"These women today are playing a wonderful brand of golf," Corcoran added. "The top players are steadily in the low seventies—72's and 73's. They never go into the 80's, sometimes they get down in the 60's."

"The Babe, for instance, has had 64's on championship courses. I have heard a lot of leading amateur players say they want no match with her."

"The girls don't hit the ball as far as the men but they're better with their short game—especially pitching and putting."

Corcoran said the "Big Four" of women's golf—Babe Zaharias, Patty Berg, Louise Suggs and Betty Jameson—are capable of gaining the quarterfinals of the Men's Amateur Championship and might even win the title.

Sam Snead Wins Golf Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla.—(P)—In one brilliant four-hole stretch, Sammy Snead won the pro division of the $10,000 Seminole Golf tournament yesterday.

There were nine holes to go and Snead trailed Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C. by a stroke. Then the West Virginia slammer birdied the 10th and 11th with long, difficult putts. He chipped in from 40 feet off the green for an eagle three at the 12th, and birdied the 13th with another long putt.

That shot Snead far past Palmer, who flopped to a 39 on the homecoming stretch, and earned Sammy a total of $1,858.33 for his work in the 36-hole event.

He collected $1,800 for his victory in the pro section and $58.33 for teaming with Arthur O. Wellman of New York to tie for fifth place in the pro-amateur best ball competition.

Snead's 36-hole total of 138, six under par for the tough, 7,000-yard Seminole Golf Club course, gave him a six-stroke margin over Palmer and three others—Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., Marty Gurgol of Lemont, Ill., and Claude Harmon of West Palm Beach.

Packers, Steelers Slate Pre-Season Exhibition Clash

LATROBE, Pa.—(P)—The National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers and the Green Bay Packers will play a pre-season exhibition here Friday night, Aug. 29.

The game will be played in a stadium with a seating capacity of 10,000. It will be the first pro football game in Latrobe since the turn of the century.

Latrobe is about 40 miles east of Pittsburgh.

Canadiens One Point From Second Place

(By The Associated Press)

The Montreal Canadiens were a point away from clinching second place in the National Hockey League today, a berth that figures to give the hustling Frenchmen an edge in the forthcoming Stanley Cup playoffs.

Montreal pulled three points ahead of the third place Toronto Maple Leafs last night by defeating the defending cup holders, 3-0. The victory moved Montreal three points ahead of Toronto, 77-74. Both teams have two games left to play.

If Montreal finishes second, they will clash with the fourth place Boston Bruins in the playoffs while the pennant winning Detroit Red Wings take on the Maple Leafs.

Cowgirls Ask No Special Privileges On Cage Floor

The Texas Cowgirls, who play Al's Tavern here tomorrow night at 9:15 at Bonitas gym, ask no concessions on the basketball floor.

In Escanaba this morning enroute to Niagara, Wis., where they will play the Badgers tonight, the Cowgirls emphasized that they play regulation basketball and follow the regular rules of the game. "Beat us if you can, but don't forget a lot of teams have tried it and failed," a spokesman said to Mac McComber, Al's manager. "We ask for no special rebounding privileges or anything like that. And we play all out to win," the girl cager added.

Long And Short

The accompanying picture shows the long and short of the cowgirls. The long of it is Gene "True" Love, six-foot, six inch center who has been playing basketball since she was 10 years old. The short of it is Betty Herrmann who hails from Waco, Texas. Although she is barely over the five-foot mark, she is a deadly set-shot artist and considered the team's best hook-shot.

Following their appearance here, the Cowgirls move on to Hermansville where they will face the Rodman's Bar Foxes Saturday night at the Community Center gym.

Attractive Prelim

An attractive preliminary has been lined up for tomorrow night's show at the Bonitas gym. The high-powered Escanaba Harnischfeger quint will take on the rugged Cooks Bombers. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Other members of the Texas team, organized by Jack Kearns of professional boxing fame, include Betty Wanless of Dallas, Texas; Dolly Coughlan, King Ranch, Texas; Ethel LaNoue, Houston, Texas; Vivian Lee, Omaha, Nebraska, and Lynn Boss, Tacoma, Wash.

Advance ticket sales indicate one of the largest independent cage crowds of the season here tomorrow night.

Nardico Decisions Wagner In 10 Rounds

CLEVELAND—(P)—Pounding Danny Nardico of Tampa, Fla. gained a 10-round unanimous decision over Dick Wagner of Toppenish, Wash., last night in an exciting light heavyweight bout.

Nardico, at 177, knocked Wagner down for nine-counts twice—once in the fourth and again in the seventh. But the crowd cheered the game Wagner, 173, who gave Danny his lumps in the fifth and sixth rounds, and struggled vainly for a knockout in the 10th.

The nationally televised fight was the first one sponsored by the International Boxing Club in Cleveland. An audience of 4,426 paid $19,188.

The Umpire

By BEANS REARDON
24 Years in National League
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Q. What has been the St. Louis Browns' largest total attendance for a season?

A. The Browns' high is 712,918, set in 1922. The pennant-winning St. Louis Americans of 1944 drew only about 500,000.

Q. What is the record in both major leagues for doubleheaders won.

A. The Chicago Cubs top the National League with 20, established in 1945. The American League record is 14, held by several clubs.

Q. What has been the record number of players used in one game by one big league club?

A. 24, by Brooklyn against the Giants in 1948, also Pittsburgh against Boston in 1940. The American League record is 23, set by Cleveland against Detroit in 1921.

Q. What are the principal assets needed to be a good umpire.

A. Good common sense and knowing how to handle men. An umpire must hustle, keep on top of plays and never lose sight of the ball. Never make a decision while running, for your eyes jump as you move.

ANDERSON - BLOOM

Ishpeming Wins, Houghton And Mass Fall In Tourneys

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Sixteen joyous high school quintets packed their bags for a trip to Lansing today while an equal number, defeated and downcast, cancelled plans for the weekend windup of the big prep basketball tournament.

The ax fell at 14 quarter-final centers around the state last night, turning out upset and form games at random.

Saginaw Arthur Hill and Highland Park's unbeaten forces provided the win-as-expected games in Class A while Detroit Catholic Central and Holland came through with surprise victories.

Follow Form Chart
Class B and C followed the form chart, more or less, while tourneywise Bridgman spilled previously unbeaten Vermontville in the surprise of Class D.

Highland Park downed East Detroit 48-34 to emerge as one of the strongest Class A challengers. Dave Parks, star center for the Parkers, drew four fouls early in the contest and was benched most of the first half. But Highland Park, leading 21-18 at the half, staged a 29-18 third quarter and stayed out in front.

Loss of a star worked the other way for Muskegon, co-champion of the strong Southwest conference. When Earl Morrill fouled out in the first minute of the fourth period, Holland took over and won handily, 48-37.

Highland Park and Holland will meet in the Friday semi-final at 9:30 p. m. in Jenison Field House, Michigan State College.

Saginaw Arthur Hill, co-champion of the Saginaw Valley league, shook off the first half resistance of Lansing Sexton with a 27-14 third quarter and won 64-45. John Adams pumped in 28 points for Arthur Hill while Dave McCulloch scored 18 for Sexton.

The Hill Lumberjacks move against Detroit Catholic Central in an 8 p. m. semi-final at Jenison Field House.

The Detroit quintet won a weird 29-22 victory over Ann Arbor's five-A champions, in which Ann Arbor tallied only one basket in the entire second half and that by Bill Adams—came with slightly more than three minutes left in the game. Both teams suffered from tourney-tightness but Detroit Catholic Central came closest to shaking it off. Niles the giant-killer and unbeaten Detroit St. Andrew led the Class B field. Niles, delegates from the Big Seven league, turned back East Lansing 49-36 in workmanlike fashion. St. Andrew won its 46th consecutive game with a 54-43 decision over game Roseville. Frank Tanana whipped in 24 points for the winners while Joe Emery caged 20 for Roseville.

Bob Sharland scored 22 points to lead his Ishpeming quintet to a 54-37 win over Alpena Catholic Central and the doubtful right to meet St. Andrew in the semi-finals.

Grand Blanc nipped Grand Rapids Godwin 47-46 on a basket by Jim De Norish and will face Niles Friday evening. Dick Fry made 20 for Grand Blanc.

Unbeaten St. Louis maintained its clip with a 60-50 win over a good Holt team that couldn't overcome the 25-point performance of center Fred Corbus. Winners of 21 straight games now, St. Louis' semifinal opponent will be Charlevoix, 47-42 winner over Houghton, defensive pride of the Upper Peninsula.

Wyandotte Mt. Carmel surprised Berrien Springs 42-41 on a late free throw by Norbert Tabin and will face Algonac, which won 39-31 over Ortonville, with Joe McKeon pacing the winners with 17 points.

The fur really flew in the Class D scramble. Fowler, the class favorite, proved its right to that label with a 74-27 win over a De Witt team that had won 23 of its last 24 games. With Al Thelen (18 points) and George Fox (16 points) showing the way, Fowler raced to a 35-15 halftime lead and waltzed away.

One-Point Loss
Bridgman surprised previously unbeaten Vermontville and its six-foot seven inch center, Doug Steward, 50-44. Despite Steward's 25-point performance, tourney wise Bridgman bewildered the losers with a full-court press and snapped a 23-game winning streak for them.

Copemish survived a nip-and-tuck battle with Mass' strong Upper Peninsula delegation, 51-50. Mickey Finan and Merle Smith scored 13 and 14 points for the winners.

Spring Arbor was the other D winner, edging Hanover Horton 39-38 on an overtime tip-in shot by Sid Chapman.

Copemish meets Spring Arbor in the semis while Fowler and Bridgman will square off. The 16 survivors were all that is left of a starting field of 650 teams from every nook and cranny of the state. A week of district play and a week of regional games pared the field to the 32 that entered last night's activity.

That competition knocked out all of 17 unbeaten quintets except Highland Park, St. Andrew and St. Louis and drove to cover every defending champion. Defeated were Class A titlist Kalamazoo Central, Class B St. Joseph, and Brimley, the D champion. Detroit St. Andrew abdicated the Class C title to try its luck, good so far, in Class B.

Rookie Russ Sullivan Leads Tigers To Win

LAKELAND, Fla.—(AP)—Rookie Russ Sullivan's base hit boom and improved fielding—if continued—could cause a big outfield shuffle on the Detroit Tigers.

Originally Sullivan got pushed into the background in the talk about who would fill the right field post vacated by Vic Wertz switch to first base.

Newly-acquired Cliff Mages got the first trial but didn't hit. Mages stayed in the lineup but Polfe benched one of his regulars so he could also see Sullivan perform.

Sullivan, with an admittedly weak throwing arm, moved into left field where that weakness would hurt the club the least.

Three RBIs
Yesterday Russ rocketed a double and two singles to smash in three runs in the Tigers' 9-1 victory. The decision ended the Boston Braves' four-game winning streak.

In his four games in left field Russ—second leading batter in the American Association last year with a .341 average—has played errorless ball. The staff feels he's improved greatly over last year.

And in 17 times at bat in those games he drove in five runs with his five hits and scored three times himself.

Although he's played only four full games in the Tigers' five victories and five defeats, he has batted in only one less run than leaders Hot Evers and George Kell.

If Russ should make the club—and he's now conceded a chance whereas he wasn't a week ago—the 26-year-old left-handed batter would like to play left field. That would move leftfielder Johnny Groth to right where his stronger arm would be more valuable. Evers, rather than Groth will probably play center field this season.

"Sullivan is pulling the ball better than when he was up with us late last year," said Manager Red Rolfe. "But he's still not falling away from those inside pitches and pulling for distance the way we'd like him to. He hits too many of them into the ground."

"In the field he's done a little better than we expected."

Braves Are Stronger In Some Spots; Shortstop Still Weak

(Second in a series on Major League Baseball Clubs)

BRADENTON, Fla.—(AP)—Boston's youth-infused Braves appear to have strengthened themselves in several positions but not where they need help the most—at the vital shortstop berth.

The Braves, four place finishers for the past three years, have one of the league's better pitching staffs headed by Warren Spahn. They own a solid, experienced outfield composed of Sid Gordon, Sam Jethroe and Willard Marshall. They have some good long ball hitters in Earl Torgeson, Bob Elliott and Walker Cooper. And they boast as fine a rookie batch as seen in any camp.

But unless Manager Tommy Holmes can come up with a suitable shortstop replacement for the departed Buddy Kerr, the Braves' hopes of improving their position appear slim.

Biggest Problem
"The infield is our biggest problem," admitted Holmes. "We've simply got to have a good double play combination if we are to challenge the leaders."

Of the four different Keystone combinations employed by Holmes a shortstop Jack Cusick and second baseman Billy Reed have attracted the most attention. Cusick, who came to Boston from the Chicago Cubs for outfielder Bob Addis last October, has a strong booster in Rogers Hornsby.

Other shortstop-second base combinations getting careful inspection are the John Logan-Harry Hanebrink, Leo Righetti-Jack Dittmer and the veteran Sibby Sisti-Roy Hartsfield duos.

The stubborn holdout siege of the veteran Elliott has given Ed Mathews and Bill Klaus, a pair of fine-looking rookies, a chance to strut their stuff at third base. Each has made a deep impression. Mathews with his hitting and Klaus with his fielding.

Call To Service
The call to service for April 7 induction of sophomore southpaw

Chet Nichols undoubtedly will hurt, but Holmes still regards his pitching staff as one of the best in the league. Spahn (22-14), Vern Bickford (11-9) and Matt Surkont (12-16) comprise a solid trio.

Gordon, (287), Jethroe (280) and Marshall (281) are a cinch to open the season in the outfield. The trio hit 58 home runs and drove in 236 runs last year. Tom Whisenant (.312 at Denver) and Bill Bruton (.303 at Denver) appear to have a slight edge over Jack Daniels and Bob Thorpe for the extra outfield spots.

Ebba St. Claire (282) has the edge over Walker Cooper (.313) as the No. 1 catcher. St. Claire is hitting with more power this spring. Big Coop, who took a 25 per cent cut in salary, has sliced

Harnies Defeat Legion 83-46

GLADSTONE—The Gladstone Legion played with the potent Escanaba Harnies for the first half of an independent basketball clash here last night but then wilted under the Harnie basket barrage in the last two periods.

Training Camp Briefs

NEW GROUND RULE

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers were still discussing today a strange ground rule in force in their game against Cincinnati at Vero Beach yesterday.

Before the game a water moccasin was found and killed in a ditch bordering left field. Just in case a companion was about, the umpires ruled that any ball bouncing into the ditch would be a ground rule double and any ball hitting the ditch on a fly would be a home run.

WANTS TRADE

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants still hasn't given up his hope of landing a lefthand hitting outfielder in a trade with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

After a conference yesterday with Billy Meyer, Pittsburgh manager, Durocher was confident the Bucs would surrender George Metkovich, provided they get enough infield strength in return. That's one department in which the New Yorkers have spare talent.

SEEK REVENGE

ORLANDO, Fla.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox play the Washington Senators here today in the second contest of their spring exhibition baseball road trip.

Bill Wight and Willard Nixon are Manager Lou Boudreau's Sox pitching nominations for the tilt. The Sox beat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 at St. Petersburg yesterday.

TEN AILERS

KISSIMMEE PARK, Fla.—(AP)—The injury-ridden Boston Braves have added pitchers Jim Wilson and Warren Spahn to the ailing list, now numbering ten. Wilson developed intestinal trouble yesterday and Spahn has a painful blister on his right toe.

SHEDS 20 POUNDS

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—Luis Aloma, the Chicago White Sox No. 1 relief pitcher, says he is rounding into shape fast now that he has shed 20 pounds. Aloma, who was ordered by Manager Paul Richards to refrain from playing winter baseball in Cuba to save wear on his arm, reported this spring at a hefty 220 pounds.

He still wonders why the Sox insist on listing him as a 175-pounder on their roster. He hasn't been that light in years.

CITY RIVALS

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Chicago's city rivals, the White Sox and Cubs, will tangle today in the second of their spring exhibition series.

The Sox defeated the northsiders 3-2 in the previous meeting.

Both managers, Paul Richards of the Sox and Phil Cavarretta of the Cubs, will use their regulars today.

Cavarretta will be eager for victory to get back on a .500 won-lost percentage for the exhibition campaign. They've won four and lost five. So far the team is hitting around .250, about the same as they finished up the 1951 season in last place.

BAT PRACTICE

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(AP)—"When we get back to Tucson," says Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, "we'll have early morning batting drills to sharpen up."

"The terribly cold weather isn't any help either."

It's easy to see Lopez' point. Look at these lardian "hitters": Al Rosen, four hits in 26 times at bat; Ray Boone, four in 28; Bob Avila, five in 24; Larry Doby, six in 21; Luke Easter, two in nine.

BRECHEN SIDELINED

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, who suffered two losses yesterday, take on the world champion New York Yankees today behind pitchers Gerald Staley and George (Red) Munger.

The Cards were defeated by the Boston Red Sox yesterday, 3-2, on a three-run homer by Vern Stephens.

The Redbirds also lost the pitching services of Veteran Southpaw Harry (The Cat) Brechen, when x-rays showed a bone chip in his left elbow. Brechen will be sidelined indefinitely.

COACH LOST

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—(AP)—Coach Milt Stock will be lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates for possibly three weeks.

Stock is leaving here tomorrow night for San Mateo to undergo an operation which will remove a disc pressing on a nerve.

Hand Carved Oak Pays Tribute To Gardeners

HARTFORD, Conn. — A tribute to gardens and gardeners is enshrined in a hand-carved oak pew end in the Chapel of Trinity College, one of the world's show-places of woodcarving.

Like 77 other pew ends, 31 medieval bestiaries, and numerous single pieces, the gardener's pew is carved by J. Gregory Wiggins, former Connecticut Yankee classics school master, turned wood-carver. A subtle humorist, he has tucked many chuckles into his carvings of saints and college boys.

The tribute to gardeners pictures the Garden of Eden on its main panel, complete with Adam and Eve, the serpent, the apple, and the Angel of the Lord. This scene is called the Chapel's "Quiz Program," for there student guides ask visitors to guess whether the scene is before or after the fall of man. The clue is in the fact that the serpent still has legs, indicating that the scene is before God condemned him to "crawl forever upon his belly."

The Civil War Memorial Arch of Hartford's famous Bushnell Park is at the top of the gardener's pew end, while St. Abelard, patron of gardeners, is on the arm with spade in hand. The flower "Poeticus" is also rendered.

The Trinity Chapel is becoming widely known as a New England tourist attraction, with the number of visitors increasing steadily since its completion in 1932. Hartford's famous Elizabeth Park Rose Gardens are a short distance from the Trinity campus.
